Nicole Tschirky (admitted in 2011) is Certified Specialist SBA Construction and Real Estate Law and a Counsel in our Construction and Real Estate Law team.

She advises institutional and private clients on all aspects of private and public real estate law and also regularly represents clients in related disputes before cantonal and federal courts and as well as cantonal and federal authorities.

Nicole assists her clients in all phases of real estate projects and in particular advises her clients in connection with building permits, planning law, environmental law, tenancy law as well as in complex construction matters and disputes (including, in particular regarding defects and remuneration). She also regularly advises clients in important commercial real estate transactions.

In addition to her real estate practice, Nicole is also specialized in advising and representing clients in procurement law. In these areas, Nicole Tschirky can also draw on her many years of experience at the Administrative Court of Zurich, where she currently serves as a substitute judge.
